LOS ANGELES IS AGAIN FASTENED TO TENDER SHIP

Giant Dirigible Makes Second Trip to Bermuda Islands

Hamilton, Bermuda, April 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The U. S. dirigible Los Angeles, visiting Bermuda for the second time, was fast to the tender ship Patoka early this morning.

The Los Angeles was first sighted off Bermuda at 2:20 a. m. She then cruised seaward again and was lost to view until about 5:30. She cruised leisurely about the island and at 6:30 took her position over the Patoka. She made fast in a little less than an hour.

There were only a few persons present to witness her arrival, but when she was ready to make fast many gathered along the shore to watch the proceedings. Later a number of small craft cruised about carrying spectators.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 22.—The dirigible Los Angeles arrived over Bermuda at 2:20 a. m., the navy department was informed in a radio message direct from the ship shortly after 3 o'clock this morning.

The message from the Los Angeles, which made the flight from her hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., in a little over twelve hours, said she was waiting for daylight before attempting to attach herself to the mooring mast of the U. S. S. Patoka.

EXAMINATION OF ALIENS ABROAD OFFICERS' PLAN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 22.—Labor department plans for examining prospective immigrants abroad, which immigration officials hope will eventually eliminate the need for an immigration station at Ellis Island and other ports, were up for consideration at an inter-departmental conference called here today at the instance of Secretary Davis.

The plans, which labor department officials hope may soon be put into effect, contemplate more complete examination of intending immigrants, both medical and otherwise, at American consulates abroad, and possibly at ports of embarkation. They contain the further suggestion that inspectors and medical examiners conduct examinations aboard ship during the voyage to American ports.

The Ellis Island station which has become the "white elephant" of the labor department, would be used only as a concentrating point for aliens held for deportation, under the plan.

Senator Wheeler Took Stand in Own Defense

Great Falls, Mont., April 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Senator Burton K. Wheeler took the witness stand in his own defense today at his trial here on charges of illegally accepting before the department of interior for Gordon Campbell, Mont., oil operator.

"I never met George P. Hayes in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York," he said in a positive tone. "I never heard of him until he appeared before the Daugherty investigating committee. He was attorney for a bootlegger by the name of Gorini."

His statement was interrupted by an objection by the government, which was sustained.

Hayes, who was the government's star witness, testified that he met Senator Wheeler in New York in March, 1923, and that Wheeler asked him to appear before the interior department in his place.

Friends of Guy Robinson will regret to learn that he is seriously ill with heart trouble at his home in South Dixon.

NEW SYSTEM OF LIGHTS FOR AIR PLANE FIELD HERE

Storage Batteries are Being Tried Out at Nelson

An experimental test of a new system of field marker lights for the transcontinental air mail service is being tried out at the Nelson airplane field, the first tests being made last night.

J. C. Hammond of Chicago, of the airplane section of an electric storage battery company, with C. S. Roberts, engineer, and D. J. Malpede, also of the same company are out from Chicago, looking after the work. E. G. Edmundson of Chicago, representing a light company, is with them, and the experiment is being tried under the direction of Mr. Christner of the air mail service.

The plan is to equip each of the fifteen field marker lights with a storage battery of its own, instead of operating the marker lights with a primary cells, as heretofore. The plates cells, as heretofore. The plates and solution of the primary cells have to be renewed every time they run down, whereas the storage batteries may be recharged at the Delco light plant at each land field. It costs $4.41 to renew each light in the present system, the life of a filling for the primary cells being four months. It is estimated, on the basis of experiments so far tried, that the saving in expense to the government will be $30 on every light unit in the course of five years.

Saving of $18,000 a Year.

While this does not appear to be a big item, the number of lights is already large and it will soon be considerably increased. At present there is a field every three miles with a small acetylene blower, so that the blower may never be out of sight of a signal light. Every 25 miles of the night flying route there is a landing field of about 50 acres, with a shack in the corner of the field containing a light plant with batteries. A windmill tower near the shack supports a 5,000,000 candle power beacon light, which guides the pilot on his way.

In order to make it safe for a pilot to land on the field at night, in case of necessity, the field is fenced in with a series of 15 field marker lights. These field marker lights are the ones on which the new system of storage batteries is being tested. The lights are small 2.4 volt lights enclosed in a globe. The storage battery for each light may be recharged at the plant in the shack on the field.

Preparations are going on for the establishment of the night mail route from Chicago to New York, the night route being between Bryan, Ohio, and New York City. This route will be equipped and the service started by June 1. With this addition to the Chicago-Cheney night route, there will be a total of 200 landing light each making 3,000 lights in all. Saving $30 on each light every five years would amount to the sum of $90,000 every five years or $18,000 a year.

First Test Here.

The system has been tested in a small way at the Maywood field, but the test to start Tuesday night at the Nelson field is the first real test of an entire field lighted by the storage battery system. The Nelson field was chosen for the test because it is a good average field, convenient to Chicago, and because Care Taker Ira Scott is highly regarded as the kind of a man to be entrusted with co-operating in so important a test.

The hardest service required of the lights is from January until March, when the nights are longest. It is expected that the year around average time for recharging the lights batteries will be every three months.

General Superintendent Edge of the air mail service and W. E. Kline, chief of the maintenance of way of the service, both with headquarters in Omaha, have approved of the test to be made here and will watch the course of the experiments as reported to them.

The lights do not burn all night. As soon as the plane leaves Maywood, the Nelson field lights up, both beacon and field lights, and all other fields as far west as Iowa City are all lit up. As soon as the airplane passes over the field here, a telephone message is sent to Maywood, reporting all well as far as Nelson. This is done on every field, the pilot flashing a signal light on the lower wing of his plane as he goes over the field and receiving an answering flash from the beacon. If nothing is heard for 15 or 20 minutes after the plane passes a field, trouble is suspected and the quires are instituted at once to locate the plane. When the plane is reported as having reached Iowa City, the lights east of there are shut off.

EUREKA COLLEGE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB IN FINE CONCERT

Program of Genuine Merit Presented by Young Ladies

Each recurrence of spring is bringing before the public an increasing number of college choral organizations. This increase in number together with the same spirit of loyalty to Alma Mater, which is put into athletic and other efforts, has stimulated a striving for excellence both in the material being presented to the public and in the quality of its performance. The program presented last evening at the Christian church by the Girls' Glee Club of Eureka College exemplified in all respects these high standards. With their fresh girlish voices under the capable leadership of Miss Parker, they gave a smooth and delightful rendition of a well prepared and worthy program.

Without enumerating all the variety of the finest work of the club was shown in the exquisite "Angels Trio" from Mendelssohn's Elijah.

Miss Pifer, pianist and accompanist for the organization, plays with a facile technique, and her relaxing absence of personal mannerisms is a worthy example to all public pianists. The brilliant performance given the first movement of Mendelssohn's string trio in D minor as played by Miss Pifer, piano, Miss Madden, violin and Miss Colburn, cello, ought to give local popularity to this famous classic.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the evening was the singing of Miss Bonalyn Chism, whose high, light voice is of sweet and lovely lyric quality.

The club will sing tonight at Kankeke and tomorrow evening at the Jackson Boulevard Church of Christ, Chicago, broadcasting the latter program through Station WGN.—C. F.

UNCOVER PLANS FOR ROBBERY OF PROMINENT BANK

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 22.—Seizure of a small arsenal of weapons, dynamite, ammonia gas and smoke bombs in the cellar of a rooming house occupied by Henry J. Fernekes, alleged bandit arrested on Saturday, has revealed an extensive plan for a bold daylight robbery of one of Chicago's largest downtown banks, according to William Schoemaker, detective chief.

Mrs. Anna H. Beaumont, 49, who operated the house, is being held for questioning. Although she protests her innocence, detectives who tapped her telephone and rented rooms in the house disguised as laborers, say she is one of the instigators of the alleged robbery plot.

Information obtained from telephone conversations to which detectives listened led to the arrest of Fernekes in a downtown library where he was consulting books on the manufacture of bombs.

Think Herrin Election Makes Peace Possible

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Herrin, Ill., April 22.—Peace has come to stay in Herrin, storm center of Williamson County's factional disturbances, in the opinion expressed today by Marshall O. McCormack, chosen mayor yesterday in the hottest city election in years. Running on the citizen's ticket, McCormack defeated Thomas Kelly, Ku Klux Klan candidate on the conservative ballot, by a majority of 197.

Despite the intense interest in the election, which polled a total of 4,399 against 4,609 two years ago, the voting passed off quietly.

Receiving congratulations, the new mayor said: "It is time for all of us to pull together. Herrin must go forward again. He added that he would try to serve all groups of people with an administration free from favoritism.

Street gatherings were dispersed last night and concentrated demonstrations were not permitted. Major Buchanan, here as representative of Gov. Small, in full uniform, toured the city throughout the day.

John D. Never Harsh With His Children

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, April 22.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in an address last night before members of the Federated Men's clubs of Tarrytown and vicinity declared he could not recollect ever hearing his father say a harsh word to any of his children.

Mr. Rockefeller added, "I cannot remember him ever criticizing us. He was not what he said, but what he did through his example that guided us."

"When the father sits at home, reads the paper, sits at his desk, the son and daughter go to Sunday School. It doesn't carry much weight."

"The father who says to his son 'come, has some influence. The father who says to his son 'go,' has considerable less influence."

John Gough of Chicago is here visiting his mother, Mrs. Betty LeMay, and sister, Miss Virginia Gough.

Woman's Torso Found in Old Catch Basin

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, April 22.—A small boy hunting for golf balls on an outlying links yesterday found the body of a woman, legs, arms and head missing, crammed into a catch basin on the edge of the course. It had been in the water for nearly a year, police say.

Strips of leather which might have been the inside of a fur coat or used to wrap up the body, a piece of cloth with buttons attached and a silk stocking were found in the basin. From them the police hoped to learn the identity of the body.

The scene is an out of the way section where several holdups and attacks have occurred.

Oklahoma Celebrates Anniversary of "Run"

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 22.—With the first day of the two days celebration of the 36th anniversary of the historic "run" into the Oklahoma country over, many of the pioneers who made the historic run, their wives and their children today planned to bring the celebration to a climax with a re-enactment of the "run" as it occurred on April 22, 1889 when, at the sound of a bugle blown by a soldier and the crack of carbines at the command of an officer at exactly 12 noon, more than 100,000 persons rushed into the central Oklahoma to stake a claim.

Many of those who made the "run" rushed into the territory on horseback; others rode in wagons of all descriptions, while some ran on foot.

Today the area is inhabited by 375,000 persons. Cities have appeared, the covered wagon and the oxen have given place to the automobile and the broad expanse of prairie has broken up into fertile farms.

Premier Writes to King George Daily

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, April 22.—King George has had a letter from Premier Baldwin every day since he has been away on his cruise in the Mediterranean. It has been the custom of the House of Commons leader for generations to write to the King every day, especially when the house was sitting, and for many years he was supposed to do so in his own hand.

Gladstone used to sit on the treasury bench with pen and ink pour out reams of information to Queen Victoria. Disraeli touched only the "high spots." Bonarlaw got into the habit of leaving the task to his secretary who wrote the notes on a typewriter.

Mr. Chamberlain revived the old habit of writing in his own hand and would daily dispatch humorous holographs over which the King would smile while at his coffee the next morning. Mr. Baldwin also writes himself, but confines his letters strictly to business.

Franklin Folks Figure in Auto Mishap Today

A Ford coupe owned by Herman Greenfield, farmer, residing north of Franklin Grove, was badly damaged this morning and the occupants narrowly escaped serious injury when the machine turned completely over while being driven at a high rate of speed. The car, which was driven by a son of the farmer, was traveling west on the Lincoln Highway and at the corner one mile east of the village, skidded, turned completely over, landing on its wheels, after crashing through a fence on the Chicago & Northwestern right of way. One of the occupants was slightly cut and bruised about the body. The car was hauled to Dixon to a garage.

IOWA YOUTH IN OGLE JAIL CUT THROAT TUESDAY

Is in Serious Condition at Hospital in Rochelle Today

Vernon Koch, aged 17, Miles City, Iowa, youth who yesterday made repeated efforts to take his life in Oregon, was still alive at 2 o'clock this afternoon. His father arrived at his bedside in the Lincoln Hospital at Rochelle last evening and could not account for the boy's actions. Late today it was reported that there was little change in his condition, but that he had a chance of recovery.

Koch purchased rat poison and arsenic in Oregon drug stores yesterday morning and was turned over to the police when the druggists suspected his motive. He was taken to the county jail where shortly after dinner he was found in a bath tub almost drowned. Before entering the tub, he had severed the trachea just above the Adam's apple with a safety razor blade and then tried to drown himself.

(Telegraph Special Service.)

Oregon.—There was considerable excitement in Oregon Tuesday afternoon when Vernon Koch of Miles City, Ia., tried to commit suicide. He entered one of the local drug stores in the morning and told that he was from Clinton, Ia., and was 17 years of age. He returned about the noon hour and sought to purchase some poison. He asked the clerk if the poison contained strychnine, whereupon the druggist became suspicious and refused to make the sale. Koch went to another drug store where he made an effort to purchase the poison and Sheriff S. N. Dodson was called and took him in charge.

Koch was taken to the county jail and in the bathroom asked to take a bath. He was accommodated and while in the bath room, he found a safety razor blade with which he slashed his throat and then put his head under water in the tub in an effort to drown himself. He was discovered in this position and jail attaches rushed him and rushed him to the office of Dr. H. H. Sheets where he received immediate medical attention and was then removed to the Lincoln hospital at Rochelle. Local authorities have sent for his father, as his condition is considered quite serious.

YOUNGEST BOOT-LEGGED, AGE 8, HELD BY JUDGE

Admits He Sold Liquor Made by His Dad in Elkhorn

Elkhorn, Wis.—Yes, sir, Daddy made it and I sold it.
The speaker, a prisoner in Justice J. E. Fuller's court late Monday, was the eight-year-old son of Robert Knapp, a farmer of Elkhorn township, arrested last week on a charge of possessing and selling intoxicating liquor. The arrest followed a sensational raid by operatives from Sheriff Harrington's office.
Robert, another son, 14 years old also testified that he had delivered the manufactured product after it had been taken from his father's still.
The three were bound over to County court under bonds of $1,250 which was furnished.
Considerable interest is being manifested by county welfare organizations in the two children implicated in the case. The younger child, who seems to have no knowledge of the seriousness of his crime, is said to be the youngest person ever accused of a like offense.

Bluejackets Return to Their Ships Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 22—The landing detachment of 165 officers and men from the light cruiser Denver has been withdrawn from Ceiba, Honduras.
Withdrawal was effected yesterday and was made possible by the arrival of Honduran troops to reinforce the units at the port.

The Denver will remain off shore at Ceiba to offer protection to American and other foreigners in the event they are again placed in danger by revolutionary activities.
Dispatches from Consul Waller at Ceiba reported a battle on the outskirts of Ceiba on Monday night in which the Honduran federal troops defeated the revolutionists. The message cabled from Ceiba about noon yesterday, said it was thought that the revolutionists would be dispersed in a short time.

Captain Jeffers of the Denver sent the detachment ashore on Monday morning at the request of President Farahona of Honduras and local authorities at Ceiba. The landing was made to protect foreign lives and property.

OGLE FARMERS ORDER NINETEEN CARS LIMESTONE

Unusual Demand Is Made for Fertilizer in Co. This Spring

Oregon—Ogle County farmers have ordered nineteen cars of limestone through the Farm Bureau during the last three months, according to the statement coming from Ogle County Farm Adviser. The following parties are among those who have secured limestone for spring application: Harry Gilbert, Ervin Drexler, J. Frank Oyer, DeWitt Warner, Wm. Arens, Wm. Walker, J. C. Babcock, Jos. Holmes, Wm. Pieper, Harry Newcomer, Chas. Hayes, Henry Newcomer, Chas. W. Lehmann, Howard Webster, M. W. Davis, Theo. Horst, Watts Sisters, Al Butterbaugh, L. H. Eykamp, Ross R. Hedrick.
In most cases those who are applying limestone, state Adviser Warren, are applying it with the expectation of sowing alfalfa or sweet clover. It is found, however, that in order to secure best results with these crops limestone should be applied a year, or at least six months, in advance of the sowing of the crop. Mr. Warren states that one of the best ways to apply limestone is to spread it on fall plowed ground before preparing it for corn in the spring. The limestone then becomes mixed with the soil and usually will have the soil sufficiently sweetened for the sowing of sweet clover or alfalfa the following spring.

A point that many farmers do not appreciate is that limestone is just as valuable for the common clover as it is for alfalfa and sweet clover and that by growing any of these legumes the soil can be greatly improved for the growing of all farm crops.

The WELL DRESSED MAN By BEAUNASH

corduroys, khaki twilletes and a sheaf of other fabrics both light in color and in weight. These originally designed for horseback, are now also worn for golf.

Americans are prone to overdo a fashion. They particularly forget that correct dress ordains not only wearing clothes of good style and first-rate quality, but also wearing them in their proper place and for their proper purpose. Thus, Englishmen are astonished to see us wearing knickers on shipboard, a common practice among trans-oceanic travelers. Of course, knickers are as off their course on water as a yachting suit would be on the green. Appropriateness to time, occasion and circumstance is one-and-indivisible with smart appearance.

"Plus-four" knickers, so called because they have a four-inch overhang below the knee, as shown here, are not becoming to every sportsman. They do not suit the one of short or thickest figure, tending to make him seem stubby. Contrariwise, they look exceedingly well on the tall, slim man, lending him needed breadth. Such considerations are important in selecting knickers, which should be plus-four or three or even two, according to one's figure.

Already, there is a trend toward dropping plus-fours in favor of more tapering symmetrical proportions adapted to the average man. Nevertheless, this style, of English origin, is still in general favor and must be reckoned with. Plaid knickers are rather smarter than the plainer patterns. The drape of your knickers is very important. Weight should rest squarely upon the hips and this necessitates a shaped, snugly drawn waistline. As plus-fours hide the stocking tops, the familiar turn-overs are frequently omitted for lightness and comfort.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Get Back Your Health as Other Dixon Folks Have Done.

Too many people suffer lame, aching backs, distressing kidney disorders and rheumatic aches and pains. Often this is due to faulty kidney action and there's danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Don't let weak kidneys wear you out. Use Doan's Pills before it is too late! Doan's are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Here is one of many Dixon cases:

THE ARROW AND THE SONG—
I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterwards, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.

Luncheon:
Cream of asparagus and tomato soup, croquettes, minced mutton with rice, brown bread, potato pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner:
Baked ham, creamed potatoes, spinach, molded cheese salad, orange short cake, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Creamed potatoes, spinach and whole wheat bread and milk furnish a nourishing evening meal for small persons under school age. Even a two-year-old child may eat this "dinner," provided the dinner hour is early enough to accommodate his bedtime.

Sincere meat was served at noon time no meat is planned for the evening meal for juniors.

Cream of Asparagus and Tomato Soup.

One bunch asparagus, 1 thick slice onion, 2 whole cloves, 2 sprigs parsley, 1 cup strained tomatoes, 2 cups white stock or water, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, yolk 1 egg, 1/2 cup cream, few grains paprika.

A small bunch of asparagus containing 10 or 12 stalks is used. Wash and cut off the heads to use in the soup as a garnish. Cook in slightly salted boiling water until tender. Rub through a coarse strainer and return to the sauce pan with the water in which the asparagus was cooked. Add onion, cloves, parsley, strained tomatoes and stock or water. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add salt and vegetable mixture and cook five minutes. Rub again through a sieve and reheat. Beat yolk of egg slightly with cream and stir into hot soup. Do not let the soup boil after adding egg and cream. Cook the heads of the asparagus separately in a little boiling water. Add the water to the asparagus and tomato mixture and keep the tips hot until needed. Add the tips to the soup just before serving.

The egg yolk and cream may be omitted if a rich soup is not necessary.

Potato Pudding.

Two cups mashed potatoes, 3 eggs, 2 cups milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Left-over mashed potatoes or fresh in hot mashed potatoes seasoned as for the table can be used in this recipe.

Beat eggs slightly with sugar and salt. Add milk and cinnamon and potatoes. Mix thoroughly. The potatoes must be perfectly blended with the milk and the mixtures made smooth. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake 30 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Serve with peach sauce.

Phidian Art Club Held Good Meeting

The Phidian Art Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. D. Dement with Mrs. Davies as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Davies were elected delegates to the District Federation at Savannah, May 8th, with Mrs. Coppins and Mrs. Bartwell as alternates. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Dixon were elected delegates to the State Federation meeting at Decatur, May 18th, with Mrs. Lager and Miss Hitchcock as alternates.

Miss Margaret Knick, accompanied on the piano by her teacher Mme. Johanna Hess-Burr, sang beautifully, "Little Brown Owl," by Buzzi-Pecora, and, "The Daisy," by Arditi.

Mrs. Mahlon Forsyth read an able paper on the Imperialism of Kipling. Kipling is essentially a monarchist, devoted to England and English institutions. In prose and verse he recites the glories of the British empire. He is a prolific writer, but his personality does not exist outside his work, and he is a mystery to those who know him best.

During the pleasant social hour that closed the afternoon, the hostesses were assisted in the dining room by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Warner.

The Circle had as their guests at Monday evening's meeting the Department President, Millicent Effert of Springfield, and Department Registrar, Frances E. Gritton of Decatur, and Department Treasurer Marie B. Hetler of Dixon. They were all called upon by the president and each one responded. The Department President told how happy she was to be with the Dixon Circle the second time during the year. She also told of her visit to the National Soldiers' Home at Danville, Ill.

The Department Registrar Frances Gritton also said that she was happy and glad to be with the Circle as she had always wanted to visit Circle No. 73, ever since she had become acquainted with Sister Cupp. She said, "I am so proud of your Circle Registrar Mary Schmucker, and you are 100 per cent in your reports," which made all Circle members very happy.

The president presented her with a gift as a token of love. The Department Treasurer, Marie Hetler, responded with a few words and told how pleased she was to have the department officers present. Past Dept. President, May B. Cupp, was called upon and gave a nice talk, after which she presented each of the department officers with a gift. She said, "We are highly honored in having our Department President with us again."

The charter was then draped for late Sister and Past President Emma White.

A motion was made to present the Young Women's Bible Class of the M. E. Sunday school with a flag for their class room. Plans were also made for a card party to be held in May.

The meeting closed in regular form, after which the committee served dainty refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

You have heard of KLEENEX—the velvety soft absorbent, made of Cellucotton. Now try it. Learn for yourself what it does.

Famous actresses first adopted it. Then skin-specialists, beauty doctors recommended it as the proper way to remove cold-cream from the face.

They warn against the use of towels, of so-called "clean" cloths. Skin-infection often results from their use—enlarged pores, blackheads, pimples.

KLEENEX is the modern, safe way. Use it once, then throw it away, just like a piece of tissue.

LOWER PASSENGER REVENUES.

A decrease in railroad revenues of 24 percent in the last four years is explained as due to bus competition. Buses doubtless have been a factor, and their importance is recognized by some of the railroads starting bus lines themselves to meet outside competition. But there are two other factors deserving attention.

One of them is the steadily growing use of automobiles for long-distance travel instead of trains.

The other is the high passenger rates in force. It has been argued often that people take to other modes of transportation because railroad travel is so expensive, and that the railroads would actually increase their revenue by a moderate lowering of fares. This sounds reasonable to the general public, but does not seem yet to have convinced the railroad operators.

It is held by many that the long-distance vacation motorist as a rule would prefer to go by train if he could have his auto at his destination, and that, if the railroads would carry his machine safely and promptly, and at a reasonable rate, he and those accompanying him would travel on the railroads. As it is thousands of motorists go to Florida in the winter in their own cars rather than pay the high rates for transporting them, with no assurance that the cars would be transported either safely or promptly. Thus the railroads lose not only the freightage on the cars, but the thousands of passenger fares that they would otherwise get. It ought to be easy to so rig up freight cars as to make them safe carriers of automobiles and to schedule them on something like passenger train time.

THE SEVERED VEIN.

A Milwaukee boy, knocked from his bicycle by an automobile, had his jugular vein cut. He was rapidly bleeding to death. A passing doctor rushed forward, groped in the wound for a moment, then pinched tightly with his thumb and forefinger the severed end of the vein. He continued holding that little blood-pipe shut for 15 minutes, until the boy had been got into a hospital operating room and the severed pipe was sewed together.

Dangerous bleeding is a mystery to most people. There are many who do not seem to realize the blood circulates through the body like water in an automobile radiator, with the heart functioning as a pump. The arteries lead fresh blood away from the heart, the veins lead stale blood back to it. Usually the cutting of an artery is more dangerous than the cutting of a vein. In the former, the blood gushes out keeping time to the heart-beats. In the latter, it pours out in a steady stream. Any one understanding this simple system of circulation should be able to do the right thing himself in any ordinary emergency.

If a patient is bleeding from an artery, the pipe-end toward the heart must be closed; if from a vein, the pipe-end away from the heart. The closing may be done with pressure from the fingers or by means of a handkerchief or piece of rope bound tightly about a limb, with a knot over the leaking pipe to localize the pressure.

SOCIETY'S EXHAUST PIPE.

Why worry about the abnormal and discontented? argues the genial Will Rogers. England knows how to handle such strays and havericks. She gives them a place to talk, and furnishes soapboxes for them to stand on, and tells them to go to it. So they jump in and denounce everything from bunsions to capitalistic bathtubs, then go home and spend the week preparing another speech, and thus they don't make any real trouble.

"It's just like an exhaust on an automobile," explains Rogers. "No matter how high-priced the car, you have an exit for its bad air and gases. It don't do any particular harm, unless you just stand around smelling of it all the time. But who would want to follow a car and smell of its exhaust when you could just as well be in the car riding?" That sounds like the last word on the subject.

GET YOUR LANDING FIELD NOW.

The United States postoffice department is studying possible new routes for air mail service, though it has only $500,000 to spend on extensions.

New mail routes call for new landing fields, and numerous enterprising cities, awake to the possibilities of air transportation development in the near future, are hastening to establish fields within or near their limits.

Adequate landing fields are quite as important as night lighting along mail routes. They are almost as important as airplanes themselves because they are essential to safe and efficient use of the planes.

Furthermore, a good landing field will bring the wise community not only improved air transportation but also various industries allied to aviation.

BED SHEETS.

A bill is being urged before the Michigan legislature that requires 99-inch bed sheets in all hotels.

And everyone chuckles. But there is a pro to this question as well as a con. Ninety-nine-inch sheets permit a 12-inch fold over the blanket. Most hotels change sheets every day, but not blankets. Protection of the sleeper's face from the blanket is the purpose of this law.

DULL AND PROSPEROUS CONDITIONS INDICATED

This is going to be the dullest summer in a decade for those whose business is to follow or comment on public events. Congress is taking its first long vacation since before the war, and the state legislatures will soon be adjourned; so there will be no new laws or threats of laws.

Business prosperity, without prospect of boom or panic, will raise few economic problems. There is little likelihood of social or moral upheavals. The rest of the world, to be sure, is in ferment. There will be plenty of foreign news to discuss.

But at home, the indications are "dull and prosperous."

"Feelers" are put out, suggesting that Smith and McAdoo both withdraw, in the interest of Democratic harmony.

Doubtless it won't be done. But what would be accomplished if it were? The difference is not between Smith and McAdoo. Both are good.

men. No one has any irreconcilable personal objection to either. The irreconcilable difference is between the two groups which have taken them as this symbols. And that difference would be as great under other symbols, or none.

They are simply different sorts of people. One of them thinks the sidewalks of New York are America. The other thinks it is the country church. One of them thinks beer is a sin, the other calls it "personal liberty." Even on the principles on which they agree, they do not feel the same way about them.

The Ku Klux Klan is the extreme expression of the one; Tammany of the other. Whatever seems axiomatically true to one seems as axiomatically false to the other. You cannot reconcile two such groups merely by giving them new names to fight over.

CHEWING-GUM AMERICANS ARE AT HOME ABROAD

A sudden demand for American chewing gum is reported from London, but the dealers are mystified by the fact that nearly all the sales are in the summer. They see no necessary connection between summer and gum. They are right. There is none. The explanation is simpler. Summer is the time when the gum-chewing sort of Americans are there.

JUDGE LINDESEY IS AN NATIONAL ASSET

Judge Lindsey may, like other prophets, be without hope among a part of the people in his own country. From the closeness of the election it would seem so.

But the rest of the country at least, as well as half of his own people, will rejoice that the recount leaves him in office, even by a close margin. The man who made the juvenile court popular, and who, more than any other person, taught the rest of us that juvenile wrong-doing is a human problem to be handled humanly, is a national asset.

It would be a national disappointment if he were to be sacrificed to a local quarrel, even if half the local people are on his other side of that quarrel.

COURT REVISION FINE FOR "UNION BUSTERS," BUT WAIT

The supreme court of the United States has decided that there is no law, or at least no federal law, against the first or second degree boycott, when conducted by building material wholesalers against union contractors or the dealers who serve them.

It is a "great victory" for the union buster—or will be until some later decision reminds them that the rule works both ways, and that whatever they may do to the unions, the unions also may do to them.

UNION VICTORY IN EQUALLY AS FUTILE

The supreme court has set aside, in effect, the Kansas industrial court law, which is a "union victory" equally futile. Doubtless the court was right. Its duty is to interpret the constitution, and the purpose of the constitution was to protect certain liberties of the individual, which the eighteenth century thought precious, against even all the people. Now that the collectivist twentieth century has argued these eighteenth century individualisms may be anachronisms, but they are the law, and if that law is to be changed, it is not for the courts to do it.

Then suddenly something happened.

OUR LAWS PROVE MISFITS IN CENTURY OF FACTS

In the century that made our law, government was a public and business a private function. Economic changes have since reversed the facts, but not our legal theories of them.

Juristic casuistry has managed to find a fiction by which to fit the ancient legal theory to the modern economic fact in the case of "public utilities" which have been defined as "affected with a public interest."

This Kansas law was an attempt to extend to extent the same principle to the problem of industrial peace and the uninterrupted operation of the essential processes of modern life. But this was beyond the old definition, and it cannot be done.

Because, in the eighteenth century it was vital to protect the individual in the right to cut his own fuel and draw his own water, unhampered by law, it now becomes logically necessary to deprive modern communities of the right, by law, to assure themselves a continuous supply of fuel and water.

The eighteenth century was the Century of Logic. Therefore our laws, because they are logical, are misfits to the twentieth century, the Century of Fact.

clicked his heels together and stood very straight, and everybody else crowded to the edge of the pavement to see the royal coach go by.

As the three little people were so much higher than anybody else, they had a perfect view. They could see the top of the carriage as well as the rest of it—and, if you please, who should be riding in state on top of the king's carriage, but the very person they were after—Snitcher Snatch himself, with the golden snuff-box under his arm. He didn't look much larger on top of the giant king's carriage than a grasshopper would look on top of your automobile, but the Twins had sharp eyes, and so, for that matter, had Mister Whizz, the fairyman.

Then suddenly something happened.

It happened at the very instant the king's carriage passed the policeman on whose hat our three friends were standing.

Snitcher Snatch took a pinch of the magic snuff out of the magic snuff box, and leaning over the edge of the carriage, blew the snuff inside where His Royal Highness the King and her Royal Highness the Queen were sitting.

"Aaa-chooo!" sneezed the king before he could so much as grab his handkerchief.

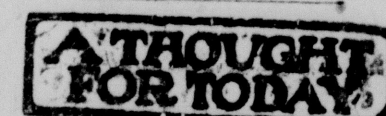

Out of the window flew his golden crown and it landed right on top of the policeman's hat, surrounding Nancy and Nick and Mister Whizz like a fence.

"Aa-chooooo!" went the queen also.

And her crown flew off and fell right on top of the other crown. "Aha!" cried the giant king. "That's the finest sneeze I've had since I had the influenza. Stop driver, and tell that policeman that one crown is enough for his head. Three are entirely too many." When the king and queen got their crowns back they never noticed that company had come. The Twins were holding tight to the king's crown and Mister Whizz to the other. "If Snitcher Snatch is going to ride with royalty, so shall we," said they.

GIANTS HOISTED FOURTH PENNANT THIS AFTERNOON

Also Gave Golden Jubilee
Flag to Breeze at Polo Grounds

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, April 22—Ceremonies appropriately marking the golden jubilee of the National League will be combined with the raising of their fourth straight pennant by the New York Giants when they open their home season at the Polo Grounds today in the first brush of a series with the Boston Braves.

After the 1924 pennant is raised the flag of the golden jubilee will be flung to the breeze and the players will march from the outfield to the plate where the Giants will renew their drive after a two day layoff.

All the other teams in the National League will likewise resume play after a day of inactivity, out of respect to the memory of the late Chas. H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn club.

Wild Throws Costly.

In the American League, erratic tossing cost Philadelphia and Cleveland respectively. Chick Fawcett's wild cast on a double play resulting in three Tiger runs paved the way for Cobb's men to win 4-3 and liberal distribution of passes among members of Harris' championship contingent by Pitcher Groves gave Washington a 6-2 win over the Athletics. As a result Washington today, is tied with Philadelphia for second place—only one game behind the pace-making Indians.

The Yanks, who moved up another notch at the expense of the Red Sox 8-1, today will be faced with heavier going when they open a return series with the Senators at Washington.

St. Louis refreshed by two triumphs over the White Sox, today will attempt to retrieve their four straight defeats at the hands of the Indians. Tobin and Robertson yesterday helped the Browns out of the cellar with home runs which figured materially in clinching a tight game 9-8.

A home run by Pichich was the only tally Boston was able to collect against the fine pitching of Sam Jones of the Yanks and that run was insufficient to save them from the league pit. The Red Sox fell to the bottom under heavy hitting by the Huggins team 5-1.

Is Today Your Birth Anniversary?

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22—You like the noisy, bustling life of the city, if today is your birthday. A day out in the country or in a small town bores you greatly. You will be a fervent lover, and unless you watch the affairs of the heart closely they may lead you into difficulties. You will have a successful and exciting life, but you must watch your health carefully.

WALTONIANS TO STAGE DRIVE IN MAY, DECISION

Membership of 300 in Dixon Chapter Aim of the Workers

The membership committee of the Isaac Walton League met at the Elks club rooms last evening and outlined plans for a membership campaign for the week of May 11, when it is hoped to increase the membership to at least 300. Two teams were chosen and organized for the drive. The "Crappies" will be headed by Milo "Bob" Stratton and the "Lame Ducks" will be under the leadership of Hal V. Hunt. The prizes for the individual members securing the largest number of new members consists of a fine Bristol casting rod and a Shakespeare reel. The winning team will be banqueted by the losing aggregation, the bill of fare to consist of sea food and fish. When a new member is secured he will automatically become a member of the team securing his name and will participate in the closing festivities. The executive and publicity committees of the league also met last evening.

Heat Your House With Coke

Cheaper and Better than Hard Coal and Goes Farther than Soft Coal.

When it is put in the coal bins there is no dust or dirt as with soft coal, or a great quantity of slate or rock as in hard coal.
It never smokes or gums. The furnace does not puff clouds of smoke and soot and gas as with soft coal.
There are fewer ashes than with soft or hard coal.
The housewife, who once uses coke for heating her home will never again use soft coal, because her curtains, drapes, rugs and wall paper look cleaner at the end of a winter of coke burning than they do at the end of the first month with soft coal.

There is no by-product coke equal to "QUICK FIRE COKE" because of the way it is "processed" and the quality of coal used in its manufacture. All you have to know is how to burn it properly to save one-quarter of your usual fuel bill for the winter. The Indiana Coke & Gas Company of Terre Haute, Indiana, makers of the famous "QUICK FIRE COKE," have issued an interesting pamphlet on coke and the way to burn it, which is sent free on request to any household.

Just upon having "QUICK FIRE COKE" if no dealer in your town supplies you with "QUICK FIRE COKE" take no other, for none other is so good. Write us and we will tell you how to get it.

HERE'S TABULATION GIVING SCOPE OF FORD ACTIVITIES

By NEA Service

Detroit, Mich. Although the public thinks of Henry Ford in the terms of automobiles, he is a modern Croesus of industry who controls more enterprises than any other man. These businesses run from automobiles to coal mines, through barge canals, railroads, ship lines, and now he is interesting himself in other big projects.

These are the establishing of an airplane freight and passenger line and the growing of rubber in the United States in an effort to break the monopoly now held by Great Britain.

Efforts on the part of Ford in new lines of business bring out the amazing organization he has already built. Even the bald truth may seem colorless and exaggerated.

Yet each year the profits of his company go upward, stimulated by the enterprises which Ford surrounds his original automobile plant.

For in the main he has kept all of his business projects more or less closely related to his manufacturing needs in an organization which reaches to every corner of the civilized world.

Despite the enormous production of the company, it has reached a degree of efficiency of operation which has drawn the attention of scientists and industrialists.

The organization represents a complete industrial chain independent of strikes or shortage of raw materials such as coal, iron, and timber and of every means of transportation from the mines and forest to the finished product.

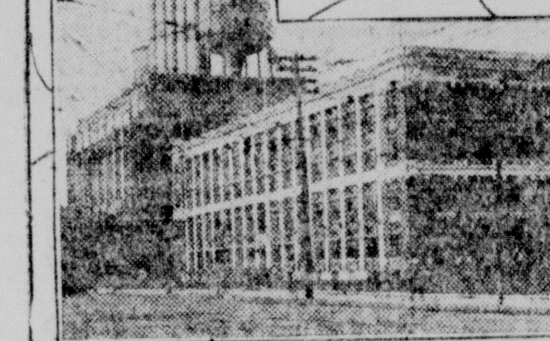

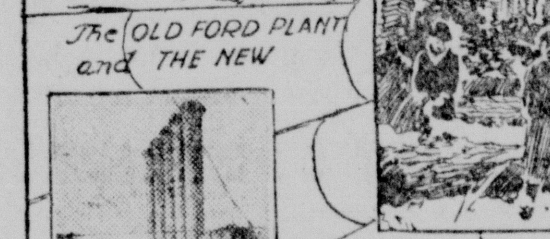

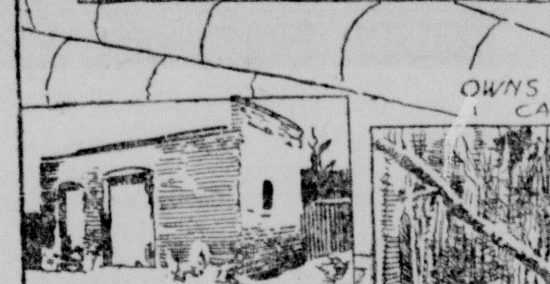

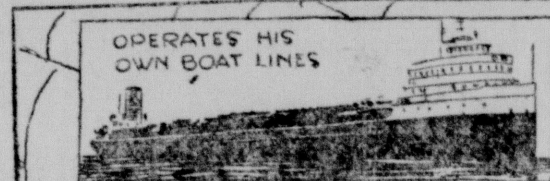

An announcement just made public by the Ford organization reveal the following lines of endeavor:

AUTOMOBILES—Two makes with a production of 1,676,673 cars in 1924.

TRACTORS—A production of 64,460 in 1924.

RAILROADS—Holds a 75 year lease on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton line, which was purchased at a receivership sale for $5,000,000 and made into a paying line. It is in a strategic location, cutting across all the main east and west transcontinental lines which run through Ohio south of Toledo and on toward the Ohio River.

SHIP LINE—Operates vessels that complete the transportation system that joins the coal from the south with iron from the north at the River Rouge plant. The company controls its own ore boats and five ocean-going freighters.

COAL MINES—Buying coal in open market was unsatisfactory so the Ford organization purchased control of four fields, two in Kentucky and two in West Virginia. These mines have resources of 288,000,000 tons.

TIMBER—A million feet of lumber supplies the Ford organization's needs for one day. The company now owns nearly half a million acres of timber land in northern Michigan in addition to 120,000 acres in Kentucky.

SAW MILLS—The largest mill is at Iron Mountain, and cuts as high as 300,000 feet of lumber a day. Complete towns are controlled by the company to carry on logging and saw mill activities.

DRY KILNS—Steam-heated dry kilns dry and season wood operated by the company. There are 52 kilns, which make this the largest battery of kilns on earth.

WOOD DISTILLATION—Largest and most complete of its kind.

BLAST FURNACES—About 400,000 tons of iron a year are required for production, and the ore is treated in furnaces having a capacity of from 500 to 600 tons of high silicon iron a day.

ELECTRIC FURNACES—Scrap steel worth from $15 to $20 a ton is melted in electric furnaces and its value raised to $50. The furnaces are capable of melting from 200 to 250 tons a day.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANTS—Five plants in operation for harnessing of water power, cheapest, most efficient and least wasteful of all types of power.

FOUNDRY—The Rouge foundry is the largest in the world. It covers 30 acres and pours 2000 tons of castings every 24 hours.

COKE OVENS—Produce own coke. Coal which costs $5 a ton delivered is converted into from $12 to $13.50 worth of coke and by-products.

All of these various interests developed by the Ford company create a list of manufactured articles that is astounding.

GLASS—Ford industries use about one-fourth of all plate glass produced in United States. More than 20,500,000 feet are required a year. Glass is made at three places, Highland Park, River Rouge and at Glassmere, Pa., a factory purchased by the company.

ARTIFICIAL LEATHER—White cloth is put through a coating compound and is turned into artificial leather at the rate of 80,000 yards per day.

FORDITE—Forty-five parts of the Ford car, including steering wheel rim and coil box, are made out of a hard rubber substance called Fordite. About 8500 steering wheels alone are turned out in a day.

ROLLER BEARINGS—More than 60,000 pounds of steel ribbon is used in the roller bearing department every day. In 1924, more than 6,200,000 bearings were turned out.

BATTERIES—About 3200 batteries a day are made at the Ford Highland Park plant.

WIRE AND TEXTILE—All insulation is made in the Ford factories, including the enameling of the copper wire and winding wire with cotton.

RADIATORS—Production schedule calls for approximately 3000 radiators a day. Normal day's production calls for these materials: 38 tons of sheet steel, 6 tons of iron plate, 68 tons of brass, 3 tons of solder, 18,000 malleable castings and 1666 gallons of acid.

MOTION PICTURES—Photographic records are kept of everything the company does. Educational pictures are also supplied to schools and colleges.

JOHANSSON GAGES—Rectangular pieces of tool steel, hardened, ground and lapped to give accurate dimensions, are made by the Ford company, which holds the American manufacturing rights.

PAPER—Waste paper and rags at $5 for a small basket.

that accumulate at various Ford plants are remade into binder board. Some 15 varieties of boxes and containers are manufactured.

CEMENT—Slag from blast furnaces is converted into a finished cement.

MAGAZINE—The Dearborn Independent, a weekly magazine, at Dearborn, Mich., was purchased by the Ford company and now has a circulation of over 700,000.

SPECIAL MACHINERY—Each operation at the Ford plant is closely watched by experts and changes in machinery to expedite work at a lower cost happen regularly.

AIRPLANES—Airplanes made by the Stout Manufacturing Company are used by the Ford organization in handling freight and it is quite likely that the actual production of planes at the Ford plants will be undertaken.

RUBBER—Ford is now interested with Harvey S. Firestone and Thomas A. Edison in an effort to raise rubber in the United States. In 1924 the Ford company paid its employees $253,001,528 in salaries and had a surplus of $542,456,496. The company was incorporated in 1903 with but $28,000 in the treasury.

TOO MUCH JUSTICE—Manchester, Eng.—A man accidentally threw a rock through a shop window here. The next day he appeared before a magistrate and asked that he be sent to prison for two months.

STRAWBERRIES AT $5—London—The first strawberries of the season on the London market sold at $5 for a small basket.

SPONGES OFF ALASKA?
Seattle, Wash.—Sponges found on the anchor of a ship off Chitcheagoff, Alaska, may cause the discovery of large sponge fields in that vicinity. The water at 20 fathoms was found to be 18 degrees warmer than at the surface, or warm enough for sponges to grow.

SURELY NOT THAT LONG
London—In a thousand years, Dr. Fournier D'Albe says, there will be no domestic servants, and that a woman's frock will go into a vest pocket.

Polarine

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Gives You Free Miles

Polarine tests, in comparison with other oils, prove that with the right grade of Polarine in your crankcase, you get more miles, gallon for gallon of gasoline, than with other oils.

You may regard these extra miles as a gift from Polarine.

The explanation of the extra mileage lies in the Polarine film, which is so perfect in wear and heat resistance as to be practically flawless. This conserves compression; increases power and mileage.

It is in frequent stopping and starting, hill climbing, crawling along in traffic—that the true character of an oil is shown up.

Polarine meets the test positively and decisively.

Polarine maintains a cushion of oil in an unbroken film between the frictional surfaces of your engine. It enables these parts to move freely, quietly and efficiently. With poor or insufficient lubrication, these moving parts grind and become searing hot.

Fill up with Polarine; then, drain your crankcase every 500 miles and refill with the correct grade of Polarine. That is true economy. There is a grade for your car. See chart at all Standard Oil Service Stations and at Authorized Garages and Filling Stations.

W. E. TREIN JEWELRY STORE

For centuries jewelry has been the medium of expressing to one's friends the affection borne them. For birthday gifts for gifts at Christmas time, at Commencement and for weddings and a host of other occasions the line of articles carried in a modern well stocked jewelry store offers to the person wishing to purchase such a gift the most extensive choice that any store may well afford.

A judicious use of jewelry, that shows taste in the selection, bespeaks character and enhance the impression that one is enabled to make. Jewelry is just as much a part of the wearing apparel of the well dressed man or woman as hat or shoes, and equal care and taste should be used in the selecting of such adornment. Naturally when the individual invests money in such an article as jewelry, which involves some little outlay of money, he wants the firm with which he deals to be reliable and the stock they carry to be of the best.

The W. E. Trein store, located at the corner of First street and Hennepin avenue, has the distinction of being one of the oldest jewelry stores in Lee County, established as it was in 1888 by the firm of Dodge & Kling. Mr. Trein made his initial start in the jewelry business with this firm at the age of fifteen years and became the owner in 1908.

This store is modern and up-to-date in every respect. The stock is composed of many nationally known lines of jewelry which lends distinction and makes it the ideal place to secure gifts for all occasions. In fact, the many years of successful operation of a jewelry store in Dixon has given Mr. Trein an enviable reputation of handling only dependable merchandise and his personal guarantee stands behind every article sold to the effect that the purchaser will find it exactly as represented.

The desire for individuality in dress is coming more and more to be expressed in the wearing of those articles of jewelry which Fashion dictates. The Trein store has at all times a most complete and varied assortment of necklaces, rings, fancy combs, bracelets, pendants, pins and pearls.

The stock of diamonds featured here represents one of the most select displays in this section of the country with the range of prices from $15.00 to $1000, being governed not by quality but alone by the size of the stone as it is the fixed policy of this firm to handle nothing but perfect stones.

The watch and clock department features many well-known and advertised makes, prominent among these being Seth Thomas clocks and Elgin, Waltham, Gruen, Howard and Bulova watches, in all of the new designs. The Trein Jewelry store is exclusive representative in this territory for the famous Gruen watches, which is a mark of distinction as only the most reputable jeweler is chosen to handle this line. In connection with this department, a repair shop is maintained employing two expert watch makers who are competent to handle the most complex repair jobs in record time.

One entire section of the store is devoted to the largest display of silverware to be found west of Chicago for a radius of several hundred miles, the stock being replete with the choicest designs it is possible to secure from Gorhams and Towle in solid silver and Rogers, Community, and Heirloom Plate. This display includes not only standard designs of flat silver, but a wide range including coffee service, tree and well platters, vases, candle sticks, cream and sugars, salt and peppers, etc.

To complete the stock of the store, Mr. Trein has added a beautiful display of Wedgewood and Pickard china, cut glass and china novelties.

In the thirty-six years since the establishment of this store, jewelry purchased from this institution has passed as heirlooms from generation to generation and, by its longevity, bears witness to the quality of the merchandise sold by the Trein Jewelry Store.

The FLAPPER WIFE

by Beatrice Burton © 1925 NEA SERVICE INC.

THE STORY SO FAR:

GLORIA GORDON, pretty young flapper, marries DICK GREGORY, a struggling lawyer. Her idea of married life is good times, good clothes, but no children! Gloria has hysterics when Dick suggests that she do her own housework. He borrows his mother's maid, MAGGIE, to teach Gloria to cook. But Gloria won't learn.

STANLEY WAYBURN, an actor with whom Gloria had been in love, calls on her. Dick sees him leave the house. Gloria tells him that the man was an interior decorator.

Gloria invites Wayburn to a house-warming. Dick instantly recognizes him. During the evening Gloria sees Wayburn kissing her friend, MYRA GAIL. Becoming reck- less, she drinks too much, and faints away while dancing with DR. JOHN SEYMOUR, whose wife, MAY, is in love with JIM CAREWE. The party breaks up when LOLA HOUGH "bawls out" BILL, her husband, for in- discriminate "petting." Then the disgusted MAGGIE quits her job.

Gloria hires a new maid, RANGHILD SWANSON, at $18 a week. Mother Gregory calls to scold Gloria for giving a drink- ing party. While she is doing this Dick comes home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

A S soon as Dick came into the room Mother Gregory rose to go.

She gathered her furs around her shoulders and adjusted the veil on her imposing hat.

"I just ran in to have a little chat with Gloria," she said smiling as pleasantly as any afternoon caller.

"But I must run along, now. Per- haps you'll come along and tuck me into my car, Richard?"

Gloria watched her tall husband and his mother walk down to the curbstone. They stood talking be- side Mother Gregory's car.

"About me, I'll bet," Gloria said to herself.

Why had Mother Gregory stopped scolding her the minute Dick came into the room, Gloria wondered.

Was it because she didn't want to upset Dick and his delicate stomach by a quarrel?

Or was it because she didn't want him to know that she was interfer- ing in Gloria's affairs . . . in the running of her house?

If that was the case, Gloria made up her mind that she'd tell Dick just what Mother Gregory had said to her!

She'd let him know that his mother couldn't come into their house and try to arrange their lives for them!

The very idea of her trying to tell Gloria whether she was to serve hard liquor or lemonade at her parties! It was none of her business!

"Your mother's just like the mothers-in-law in the funny papers," she said when Dick came into the house. "She's been trying to tell me I shouldn't have had cocktails at last night's party. Gosh, I'd hate to sit through one of her bone-dry dinners. They must be ghastly!"

Dick didn't answer her. He stood watching her futile efforts to wipe some stains from the hall mirror.

"Here, give me that duster," he said finally. "You shiny upstairs, and make the beds. I'll clean up down here. I'm the world's best parlor maid, if you only knew it!"

Gloria stood watching him for a minute or two.

In his own way, Dick was quite good-looking, she thought.

He was tall and thin, and there was an eager look in his face . . . in the quick movements of his body . . . that made him seem splendidly alive.

Of course he wasn't hand- some, like Stan Wayburn.

Gloria knew every detail of Stan Wayburn by heart. The cleft in his chin, his polished black hair, his ice-blue eyes . . . and his thrilling way of looking at you.

Dick came toward her across the living room, shoving the vacuum sweeper ahead of him as he came. He left broad dusty streaks on the rug behind him.

Gloria laughed.

"Gosh, but you're doing a bum job of house cleaning!" she said. Dick dropped the sweeper and caught her in his arms to kiss away her laugh- ter.

"Not No!" Gloria cried. With all her strength she pushed him away from her and ran upstairs.

Stan Wayburn had held Myra in his arms just that way last night! . . . The very thought of him was like a knife twisting in her heart.

What was there about Myra Gail that made all the men fall in love with her, Gloria wondered.

Myra, with her sullen gray eyes, wasn't even pretty. She talked very little in her drawing, husky voice. She did not try to please any one, particularly.

It must be her clothes that made her so alluring . . . that turned the trick, Gloria decided.

For there was no doubt that Myra had wonderful clothes. She bought them in Paris.

Gloria stopped making beds and opened the door of her clothes- closet.

WITH a new scorn she surveyed the dresses hanging there. A few weeks ago when she had bought them for her touseau she had thought them beautiful.

Now she saw that there were too many ruffles on them, too many but- tons, too much fringe. Even the colors were wrong! . . . They should be subtle greens and dusky grays like Myra wore . . . instead of bright blues and frantic reds.

Well, was there any reason why she shouldn't have clothes like Myra's if she wanted them?

Of course, if she asked Dick for them he would be sure to say he couldn't afford them for her. But she wouldn't ask him! . . . She would simply go and buy them!

After all, it was no crime to have a few becoming clothes, was it? . . . She would buy a dress of cream and amber to match her skin and hair!

She would buy black velvet to set off the pearly whiteness of her neck and arms! . . . And a scarf of real lace like foam along the edge of a wave!

She would beat Myra Gail at her own game! Stan would never look at Myra again!

By the time Gloria had made the twin beds and had hung a neat row of face towels in the bath- room, it was dark.

Downstairs she could hear the faint rattle and clatter of dishes. She supposed that Dick had finished straightening the house in his wa- dash man's way, and was washing the glasses from last night's bout. She stuffed up her hair, dabbed her nose with a powder puff, and started downstairs.

Halfway down the flight of steps she stopped. From the kitchen came the rich odor of broiling ham. . . . Dick must be getting supper!

Gloria had a sudden feeling of dis- taste for the house, with its re- minder of last night's hilarity. She wanted to get out of it . . . to go somewhere. To a restaurant. Any- where.

Above all she wanted not to be alone all evening with Dick. She ran into the kitchen.

Dick had on one of Maggie's ging- ham aprons. He was standing be- fore the stove, brandishing a toasting fork.

"Oh, take that thing off!" Gloria cried. "I hate to see a man in an apron, fussing around the kitchen. It doesn't look manly!"

Dick took off the apron and hand- ed it to her.

"Well, if my wife doesn't know how to cook, I can't starve, can I?" he asked. "Somebody's got to get our supper."

"I don't suppose it's occurred to you that there are restaurants in this town?" Gloria asked saucily.

"And anyway it's Saturday night . . . we ought to go out and bat around a bit."

She turned out the gas under the broiler.

"Going out to eat is just twice as expensive as eating at home," said Dick. "And, gosh, I'm tired after staying up nearly all last night. I'm all in, as a matter of fact. . . . Come on, Gloria, be a sport, for once, and say you'll have a fried ham sandwich at home!"

"Not a chance!" Gloria cried. "I don't have any lunch today, and I'm as hungry as a bear. So hitch up the car, old thing, and we'll drive downtown for supper. . . . And maybe we'll get wild afterward and go to a movie, eh, wot?"

She ran upstairs, whistling as she went.

DICK stood alone in the bright Sunday kitchen.

He was still shaky from his attack of "flu" earlier in the week. His head and his eyes ached. He was tired to the point of nausea.

He wondered how he could sit through a restaurant meal and a moving picture show afterward. . . . He put on his hat and went out to the garage to start the car.

Upstairs in his room Gloria was pinning on a black lace hat she had bought in Montreal during her honeymoon.

Dick took off the apron and handed it to her. . . "Somebody's got to get our supper."

Good Dispositions Invaluable

You can't watch your disposition too carefully. A crab and a grouch are rarely successful. If your liver and stomach are in an unhealthy con- dition you can not have a sunny dis- position because they affect the brain as well as the entire system. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has been usually successful in such cases. Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless pre- paration that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and in- testinal ailments, including appendi- citis. At all druggists.—Adv.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES. COTT TO RUTH BURKE, CONTINUED

I have talked so much about Karl's poem that possibly it may disappear from you, but if you do not get the real soul and spirit of it, I shall be quite mistaken. Here it is:

A PRAYER FOR EVERY DAY
O Thou, Almighty Power!
Teach me to take from Thee my dose
Of good or ill, and murmur not.
Oh, make my finite mind to grasp
That, in Thy infinite plan, there is No place for my weak cries against
The grief and sorrows of the common lot.

Blot out the ego that doth crush my soul
Beneath its load of selfishness and

If your stove has any enamel parts and undoubtedly it has, never wipe it with a wet cloth when it is hot. Porcelain enamel, which the best makes of stoves are trimmed, is baked on to sheet metal and steel. Heat expands both of these materials and cold contracts them. But porcelain enamel contracts more rapidly than the sheet steel. Therefore, if cold water is put on the enamel when it is hot, in shrinking it will eventually pull away from the steel and the result will be a mass of tiny lines on the surface of your stove. These may not show today nor tomorrow but some day you are going to find these tiny cracks and wonder how they got there. Porcelain enamel should be washed with warm water and soap. It is best never to use any gritty substance on it.

There, dear, I'm not going to spoil the beauty of this poem and the efficacy of this prayer by writing anything more.

For which I vainly plead, when placed beside Humanity's great need, sinks into nothingness.
O Thou, Judge over all!

Suffer my mean, ungenerous prayer. That Thou wouldst change Thy changeless laws, Which make strict justice, mercy most divine.

To fall upon unheeding ears. Bring me Thy love, which, all-embracing, wraps Not only me about, but takes the whole Great universe within its sheltering folds.

Thy way is right; and though in following it My path leads o'er the plowshare's lurid red, Still will I trust Thy guidance sure, and say While yet I lift my streaming eyes to Thee Thy will be done!

There, dear, I'm not going to spoil the beauty of this poem and the efficacy of this prayer by writing anything more.

DOOR FOR THE DEVIL
Cornwall, Eng.—In a church near here a mediaeval minister provided a small door near the altar, through which the devil could escape when the parishioners renounced him and all his works.

Isn't it strange how a barber whose head resembles a brush pile, can give you a good haircut?

We would like a government job where after you finish shaving in the morning you are through work for the day.

WORLD'S DEEPEST WELL
Latrobe, Pa.—The deepest well in the world has been completed by Engineers drilled down a depth of 7428 feet before they struck natural gas. The drilling required 39 months.
